

Helios Robotics - Travel and Expense Policy

1. Principles

Employees are expected to spend company money as carefully as they would spend their own. This policy defines what can be reimbursed, what needs approval and how to claim. Expenses that follow this policy are reimbursed in full; expenses that do not may be declined or deducted from salary with the employee's written consent. The policy applies to all employees and to contractors whose agreements refer to it.

2. Travel

2.1 Flights

Employees must book economy class for flights shorter than 6 hours. Business class is permitted for flights longer than 6 hours, but only with written VP approval obtained before booking. Flights must be booked at least 14 days in advance whenever possible, and the lowest logical fare should be chosen; flexible fares are allowed only when the travel dates are uncertain.

2.2 Hotels

The nightly hotel cap is $180 in standard cities and $260 in Tier-1 cities (New York, London and Singapore). The cap includes taxes and excludes breakfast when breakfast is billed separately. Employees who choose a more expensive hotel pay the difference themselves. Stays longer than 14 consecutive nights should be booked as serviced apartments through the travel desk.

2.3 Ground transport

Taxis and ride-hailing services are reimbursed for airport transfers and when public transport is unavailable or unsafe. Rental cars are allowed only when public transport cannot reasonably be used, and must be in the compact class, with a maximum of $70 per day including insurance. Personal vehicles used for business travel are reimbursed at $0.60 per kilometre. Fuel for rental cars is reimbursed with a receipt, and traffic fines are never reimbursed.

2.4 Meals

During business travel, meals are reimbursed up to a maximum of $60 per day. Alcohol is never reimbursable. Where a client or partner pays for a meal, the daily allowance is not paid for that meal. For international trips longer than 24 hours, an incidental allowance of $15 per day is paid without receipts.

2.5 Travel advances

Employees may request a travel advance of up to 50% of the estimated trip cost. The request must be submitted at least 5 business days before travel, and the advance must be settled in the expense report within 30 days after the trip.

3. Corporate cards

Corporate cards are issued to employees who travel more than 4 times per year. Each card has a per-transaction limit of $2,000 and a monthly limit of $10,000. A lost or stolen card must be reported to Finance within 24 hours. Cards must never be used for personal purchases, cash withdrawals or subscriptions that are not approved by a manager.

4. Client entertainment and gifts

Client entertainment is limited to $90 per person per event, and the expense report must list all attendees and their companies. Gifts to clients or partners are limited to $50 per recipient per calendar year. Gifts to public officials are prohibited without prior written approval from Legal.

5. Training and conferences

Courses, books and conference tickets are paid from the individual learning budget of $1,500 per employee per year. Unused learning budget does not carry over. Conference travel is booked under the normal travel rules of this policy, but the conference fee itself is paid from the learning budget unless the manager designates the event as work-critical.

6. Approval levels

- Expenses up to $500 are approved by the employee's line manager.
- Expenses above $500 and up to $5,000 are approved by the head of department.
- Expenses above $5,000 require approval from the CFO.
- No one may approve their own expenses or the expenses of their own manager.

Approval must be obtained before the money is spent whenever the expense is above $500.

7. Receipts and reporting

7.1 Receipts

A receipt is required for any single expense over $25. Receipts must show the vendor, the date, the amount and the items purchased. Credit card slips without itemisation are not accepted. Lost receipts can be replaced by a signed statement, but only once per calendar year.

7.2 Deadlines

Expense reports must be submitted within 30 days of the expense date. Reports submitted between 30 and 60 days after the expense date need a written justification from the line manager. Reports submitted more than 60 days after the expense date are rejected and cannot be reimbursed.

7.3 Reimbursement

Approved reports are reimbursed within 10 business days. Amounts in foreign currencies are converted at the treasury exchange rate published for the date of the expense. Reimbursements are paid to the bank account registered in the Pulse HR portal.

7.4 Tools

Expense reports are created in the TravelDesk portal. Photos of receipts taken with the mobile app are accepted if all details are readable.

8. Personal expenses

Minibar charges, personal entertainment, traffic fines, laundry for trips shorter than 5 nights and personal phone charges are not reimbursable under any circumstances. Employees who add a private holiday to a business trip must pay for the extra days themselves and must document the split in the expense report.

9. Violations

Submitting false or duplicated expenses is a serious breach of company rules and can lead to disciplinary action, including termination. Finance audits a random sample of 5% of all expense reports each quarter, and any employee may be asked to provide additional documentation.

10. Frequently asked questions

Can I book business class for a 5-hour flight? No. Business class is allowed only for flights longer than 6 hours and only with written VP approval.

What is the hotel limit in Singapore? Singapore is a Tier-1 city, so the cap is $260 per night.

I lost a receipt for a $40 lunch. What now? Provide a signed statement in the report. This is allowed once per calendar year.

Does the $60 meal allowance apply to every day of a conference? Yes, for every day of business travel, unless a meal is provided by the organiser.
